For the Patriot.

The above cut is a plan for a machine to prevent the breaking of the Atlantic Cable, ike the one I sent to Messrs. Monn & Co. on the 14th of October, 1857, which they retained, and said they did not like to publish it. I then had it published in November. On the 5th of December, '57, they said that they had recommended such a plan, and I have tried to get them to explain, and they will not; and they since given the credit to others, which may produce litigation if they don't explain. I suppose they made some changes

Say A is the reel with the cable on it, or passing round it; B B are stationary pulleys r the cable to pass over; C is a pulley on the cable, with some or as much weight as the cable should bear, that can rise and f II as the cable gets tighter or slacker, and as it rises and talls it acts on a spring and brake D, that will relieve the cable if it should get into a strain from the motion of the ship or other cause, and increase the friction as the table gets slacker; and the rising and falling of pulley C will let out or take up some of the cable without changing the motion of the reel, which is of much importance. Yours respectfully,

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

After several years experiment in the manufacture of Gin, I fortunately succeeded, in the year 1848, in making a discovery in its manufacture, by which it was deprived of its acid and inflammatory properties and rendered perfectly pure.

sly manufacture is at Scheidam, Heliand. After ceral months reflection what title to give it, I is duced it to the American public under the title of Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps."cheidam is the name of the place in Holland where the Gin is manufactured; "aromatic" derives its name from the Italian Juniper berry with which it is flavored; and the word "Schnapps" is the German for drink—orgue, dram—Wolfe's Scheidam aromatic drink. No sooner had my Schnapps been introduced to the American public, and received with approba-tion, than the liquor mixers of New York, Boston and Philadelphia started in pursuit with their mixed and possenous stuff, under various names. In sever-al instances my labels have been so perfectly imitat ed, with only the addition of a few letters, to plead a technical avoidance of the law, and so carefully prepared as to impose on careless purchasers. I under stand a large quantity has been purchased by the merchants of New Orleans on account of the cheap ness of the stuff. Two Dollars per dozen for the Ocarts, and One Dollar and Ten Cents a dozen for the Pints, being the wholesale price in New York. It is nothing but American Whisky flavored with the Oil of Juniper, and reduced thirty per cent below proof. A merchant who participates indirectly in the fraud, by selling the spurious article, is as much an effend er as the principal, who planned the imposition. I hope every respectable citizen, who values the health of the community in which he lives, will aid me in ferreiting out and exposing the unscrupulous merchant who, for the sake of a few cents, will put in jeopardy the lives of the community in which he lives. Such men should be haifed to the pillory of public execuation. UDOLPHO WOLFE, Sole Importer, Nos. 18, 20 and 22 Beaver st., NEW YORK.
